B part: A . A E . A . E A . Clinch Mountain Backstep.
(Key of A, capo 2) Ralph Stanley AABB. The unusual thing about this great banjo instrumental is the “backstep” in the B part: an extra half-measure (one extra “Boom-chick”) played each time through the B part.

The majority of the tune is one chord, G (really A, but we guitar players play this song with our capo at the second fret). Once you get the melody under your fingers try playing the G blues scale over the changes.

~~July — Clinch Mountain Backstep — flatpick~~

Clinch Mountain Backstep is played in G-modal tuning , sometimes called mountain modal or sawmill tuning ). The modal sound is often described as haunting, or sad. It definitely does have a minor quality. This tune is often played with the banjo or guitar capoed on the 2nd fret ( which puts it in A-modal, I guess).

Guitar Tab - Clinch Mountain Backstep- Beginner: This is a fabulous banjo song that can be nicely adapted to the guitar. It has only 2 chords - Am and E7, but there are a lot of turns and some great blues sounds you get from this song, being in the minor key. One of the best arrangements I have heard of this song is from the CD Bluegrass '96.

~~Guitar Tab~~

Although the melody of Clinch Mountain Backstep consists only of the notes of the Am pentatonic scale, it is called at jams in A (Major) rather than Am because the '1' chord that is used in the chord progression for the song is an A Major Chord rather than an Am Chord ('1m'). To call Clinch Mountain Backstep in A Minor instead of in A (Major) at a jam would imply that 1m Chords are to be played in place of 1 Chords.
