This is an introduction to the use of the Linux operating system and some of the popular applications that are bundled with most Linux distributions. This book aims to be the perfect hand-holding guide for those who have some experience of the Windows operating system but now want to explore Linux for the first time. The book begins by relating the evolution of Linux and examines various popular distributions such as RedHat, Mandrake and SuSE. It advises how to prepare a computer so that Linux can be installed alongside a Windows operating system - this means that Linux need not replace the familiar Windows environment. Step-by-step instructions are provided to allow the reader to install Linux on their own computer. These include screenshots of each step together with clear explanations and useful tips.Chapter 1: Introducing LinuxChapter 2: Installing LinuxChapter 3: Configuring hardware for LinuxChapter 4: Exploring the KDE desktopChapter 5: Surfing the webChapter 6: Touring the Linux file structureChapter 7: Handling filesChapter 8: Working in a Linux office suiteChapter 9: Creating graphicsChapter 10: Playing sound and videoChapter 11: Using the Linux shellChapter 12: Scripting for the shellChapter 13: Extending your Linux system

This edition features the exact same content as the traditional text in a convenient, three-hole- punched, loose-leaf version. Books a la Carte also offer a great value!this format costs significantly less than a new textbook. Numerical Analysis, Second Edition, is a modern and readable text. This book covers not only the standard topics but also some more advanced numerical methods being used by computational scientists and engineers!topics such as compression, forward and backward error analysis, and iterative methods of solving equations!all while maintaining a level of discussion appropriate for undergraduates. Each chapter contains a Reality Check, which is an extended exploration of relevant application areas that can launch individual or team projects. MATLAB® is used throughout to demonstrate and implement numerical methods. The Second Edition features many noteworthy improvements based on feedback from users, such as new coverage of Cholesky factorization, GMRES methods, and nonlinear PDEs.

Robert Peurifoy was a giant in the field of construction engineering and authored several books during his lifetime. This book last published in 1989 and will capitalize on the well-known name of the author. In this edition, computer calculations of costs and of modeling have been added as well as updated statistics, computer related examples and new problems. Civil, Environmental, and Construction Management Engineering Majors and Professionals will benefit from having this title on their shelf.This edition retains the conceptual strengths of the Peurifoy approach and organization from the previous edition but the new problems and computer-based examples and new up-to-date construction data make it the only choice in academia or industry.

Quick Guide to Flash Catalyst covers how to build interactive websites and interfaces easily in Flash Catalyst using designs imported in Photoshop and Illustrator formats. Also, the book will cover how to covert static artwork to interactive components, add actions to it, and publish it as SWF and AIR applications.

'I devoured A Manual for Heartache in one sitting. . . . a kind, honest and wise book about how to make a friend of sadness.' Rachel Joyce, author of The Unlikely Pilgrimage of Harold Fry. When Cathy Rentzenbrink was still a teenager, her happy family was torn apart by an unthinkable tragedy. In A Manual for Heartache she describes how she learnt to live with grief and loss and find joy in the world again. She explores how to cope with life at its most difficult and overwhelming and how we can emerge from suffering forever changed, but filled with hope. This is a moving, warm and uplifting book that offers solidarity and comfort to anyone going through a painful time, whatever it might be. It's a book that will help to soothe an aching heart and assure its readers that they're not alone.

Historically, grief and spirituality have been jealously guarded as uniquely human experiences. Although non-human animal grief has been acknowledged in recent times, its potency has not been recognised as equal to human grief. Anthropocentric philosophical questions still underpin both academic and popular discussions. In Enter the Animal, Teya Brooks Pribac examines what we do and don't know about grief and spirituality. She explores the growing body of knowledge about attachment and loss and how they shape the lives of both human and non-human animals. A valuable addition to the vibrant interdisciplinary conversation about animal subjectivity, Enter the Animal identifies conceptual and methodological approaches that have contributed to the prejudice against nonhuman animals. It offers a compelling theoretical base for the consideration of grief and spirituality across species and highlights important ethical implications for how humans treat other animals.

The cover story of CultureCult Magazine's 12th issue is an essay on H.P. Lovecraft and the concept of 'time' in his expansive body of work, penned by Felice Picano. This issue is also graced by a a loving ode to Marilyn Maye, written by Pam Munter. Lynda Pritchard Newcombe puts her years of working as a language instructor to pen as she discusses why it is a good idea to start learning a foreign language, while Marsha Mittman enthralles readers as she jots down her strange and wonderful spiritual experiences in a deeply personal essay. [p]CultureCult Magazine also features a sumptuous literary spread that includes seven pieces of fiction, ranging from the heartwrenching "Murray - A Love Story" (by Jay Shepherd) to the harrowing "Echoes of Silence" (by Edward Ahern). Issue #12 also features the work of eight contemporary poets from around the globe. [p]As always, CultureCult Magazine features paintings of renowned artists such as Claude Monet, Simeon Solomon, Jon Sell Cotman and Joseph Wright of Derby. [p]Visit us at www.CultureCult.co.in
